TRENT HILLS

Northumberland County

Located on the Trent-Severn Waterway, Trent Hills is made up of 3 distinct communities; Hastings, Campbellford, and Warkworth.

Each with its own personality and adventure, these communities form a municipality rich with charm and adventure. Hastings is the hub of it all, providing fishing enthusiasts with the perfect location to cast a line.

The journey to Trent Hills from Toronto is 90 minutes long, escaping the busy city life and stepping foot into quaint small-town relaxation.

Hastings Hilltop is nestled in nature, surrounding you with rolling hills, rushing waters, and peaceful living. Whether you enjoy the great outdoors or simply relaxing by the lake, this is the perfect community for you!

"When you are looking for peace, nature is always the answer."

CANADA'S ULTIMATE FISHING TOWN

With just over 89,000 votes, Hastings was named Canada's Ultimate Fishing Town in 2012.

There are more fish per acre here than anywhere else in Ontario (so the locals say). Hastings is a piscatorial paradise, with the only bridge in Ontario where fishing is permitted.

With muskie, pickerel, pike, walleye, large and smallmouth bass, catfish, perch, crappie and bluegill in abundance, there is a slim chance of leaving empty-handed. Visitors come from near and far to enjoy a weekend away in this small town, especially when it comes to casting a line.
